Kevin Lamb concentrates his practice in the area of Corporate Law, covering the full spectrum of corporate transactions important to businesses in today's global marketplace. With more than 40 years of corporate legal experience across a broad range of industries, Kevin's practice includes mergers and acquisitions, corporate transactions and commercial law, corporate governance, bankruptcy, corporate restructuring and creditors' rights, venture capital and private equity, real estate transactions, and senior and subordinated debt financing. Kevin was previously a partner in a nationally preeminent law firm where he served as Chairman of the firm's Commercial Law and Corporate Restructuring practice group. As a result of his national experience, Kevin is admitted to practice in Florida, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, the District of Columbia and the Commonwealth of Virginia.

Kevin is a frequent author, panelist, and commentator within the legal and business communities. He has contributed to programs and publications including NPR's "Market Watch," CNBC, Inc. Magazine, The National Law Journal, The Venture Capital Review, VentureEdge Magazine, Nikkei Business, Boston Business Journal, Mass High Tech Journal, Patent Café Magazine, South Florida Business Journal, and the Daily Business Review. Prior to entering private practice, Kevin served as an attorney with the U.S. Department of Justice and was a member of the U.S. Attorney General's Honors Program.
